Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of Sun Life Financial (Bermuda) Reinsurance Ltd.
Washington House, 16 Church St.
Hamilton, HM11, Bermuda

We have audited the accompanying condensed financial statements of Sun Life Financial (Bermuda) Reinsurance Ltd. (the "Company"), which comprise the condensed balance sheet as of December 31, 2020, the related condensed statement of income for the year ended December 31, 2020, the related condensed statement of capital and surplus as of and for the year ended December 31, 2020, and the related notes to the condensed financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Condensed Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these condensed financial statements in accordance with the financial reporting provisions of the Bermuda Insurance Act 1978, amendments thereto and the Insurance Account Rules 2016 with respect to Condensed General Purpose Financial Statements (the "Legislation"). Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of condensed financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these condensed financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the condensed financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the condensed financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the condensed financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the condensed financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the condensed financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Basis for Adverse Opinion on International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board

As described in General Note 3 to the condensed financial statements, the condensed financial statements are prepared by the Company in accordance with the financial reporting provisions of the Legislation, which is a basis of accounting other than International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IFRS").

The effects on the condensed financial statements of the variances between the basis of accounting described in General Note 3 to the condensed financial statements and IFRS, although not reasonably determinable, are presumed to be material.

Adverse Opinion on IFRS

In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter discussed in the "Basis for Adverse Opinion on International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board" paragraph, the condensed financial statements referred to above do not present fairly, in accordance with IFRS, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2020, or the results of its operations for the year then ended.

Opinion on Regulatory Basis of Accounting

In our opinion, the condensed financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2020, and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the financial reporting provisions of the Legislation described in General Note 3 to the condensed financial statements.

Significant Accounting Policies

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Company in preparing the accompanying financial statements:

Determination of Fair Value

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. Fair value is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing an asset or liability. Management determines fair value by using quoted prices in active markets for identical or similar assets or liabilities. When quoted prices in active markets are not available, fair value is determined using valuation techniques that maximize the use of observable inputs. When observable valuation inputs are not available, significant judgment is required to determine fair value by assessing the valuation techniques and valuation inputs. The use of alternative valuation techniques or valuation inputs may result in a different fair value. A description of the fair value methodologies, assumptions, valuation techniques, and valuation inputs by type of asset is included in Matters to be set forth in a General Note to the Financial Statements – #13 Fair value amounts for all quoted and unquoted investment lines and Matters to be set forth in Notes to the Condensed Balance Sheet – #2 Quoted investments.

Invested Assets

Financial assets include cash, cash equivalents and debt securities. Financial assets are designated as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (“FVTPL”) or available-for-sale (“AFS”) assets. The following table summarizes the financial assets included in the Condensed Balance Sheet and the asset classifications applicable to these assets:

Condensed Balance Sheet line	Asset classification
Cash and cash equivalents	FVTPL
Debt securities	FVTPL and AFS

Cash equivalents are highly liquid instruments with a term to maturity of three months or less. Debt securities are designated as either FVTPL or AFS. The accounting for each asset classification is described in the following sections.

Derecognition

Financial assets are derecognized when our rights to contractual cash flows expire, when we transfer substantially all our risks and rewards of ownership, or when we no longer retain control

Impairment

Financial assets are assessed for impairment on a quarterly basis. Financial assets are impaired and impairment losses are incurred if there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more loss events and that event has an impact on the estimated future cash flows that can be reliably estimated. Objective evidence of impairment generally includes significant financial difficulty of the issuer, including actual or anticipated bankruptcy or defaults and delinquency in payments of interest or principal or disappearance of an active market for that financial asset.

Management exercises considerable judgment in assessing for objective evidence of impairment. Due to the inherent risks and uncertainties in our evaluation of assets or groups of assets for objective evidence of impairment, the actual impairment amount and the timing of the recognition of impairment may differ from management's assessment.

Since financial assets classified as FVTPL are carried at fair value with changes in fair value recorded to income, any reduction in value of the assets due to impairment is already reflected in income.

When there is objective evidence that a financial asset classified as AFS is impaired, the loss in Line No. 2 (d) Change in Unrealized Appreciation (Depreciation) of Investments in the Condensed Statement of Capital and Surplus is reclassified to Line No. 36 Combined Realized Gains (Losses) in the Condensed Income Statement. Following impairment loss recognition, a debt security continues to be carried at fair value with changes in fair value recorded in Line No. 2 (d) Change in Unrealized Appreciation (Depreciation) of Investments in the Condensed Statement of Capital and Surplus, and it is assessed quarterly for further impairment loss or reversal. Once an impairment loss on a debt security classified as AFS is recorded to income, any reversal of impairment loss through income occurs only when the recovery in fair value is objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized.

Insurance Contract Liabilities

Insurance contract liabilities (or "reserves"), are determined in accordance with Canadian accepted actuarial practice. The liabilities are calculated by contract effective month using a combination of expected loss ratios and payment lags. The total reserve uses a combination of methodologies (Loss Ratio, Completion Factor and Bornheutter-Ferguson) depending on credibility of the lag factors for each effective month cohort. The loss ratios used are updated throughout the year as experience develops, while the reporting lags are updated once a year based upon historical experience.

Significant judgment is required in determining the liabilities for insurance contracts including the assumptions required for their determination. Application of different assumptions may result in different measurement of the insurance contract liabilities. Actual experience may differ from assumptions, and estimates may change from period to period based on future events or revisions of assumptions.

Changes in actuarial assumptions during the year ended December 31, 2020 were not significant and were consistently applied to new and existing business.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting principles permitted by the Legislation requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and revenue and expenses. The most significant estimates are those used in determining the fair value of financial instruments, the measurement of insurance contract liabilities and other-than-temporary impairment ("OTTI") of investments. Actual results may differ from our estimates thereby impacting our financial statements. Information on our use of estimates and assumptions are discussed in this Note.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the possibility of loss from amounts owed from our financial counterparties. We are subject to credit risk in connection with issuers of securities held in our investment portfolio, debtors, structured securities, counterparties, other financial institutions and other entities. Losses may occur when counterparty fails to make timely payments pursuant to the terms of the underlying contractual agreement or when the counterparty's credit rating or risk profile otherwise deteriorates. Credit risk can also arise in connection with deterioration in the value of, or ability to, realize on any underlying security that may be used as collateral for the debt obligation. Credit risk can occur at multiple levels, as a result of broad economic conditions, challenges within specific sectors of the economy, or from issues affecting individual companies. Events that result in defaults, impairments or downgrades of the securities in our investment portfolio would cause the Company to record realized or unrealized losses and increase our provision for asset default, adversely impacting earnings.

Income Taxes

Current income tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. Deferred income tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences at the balance sheet date between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are calculated based on income tax rates and laws that are expected to apply when the liability is settled or the asset is realized, which are normally those enacted or considered substantively enacted at the Condensed Balance Sheet date. Current and deferred income tax relating to unrealized gains and losses of AFS bonds is recognized in line 2(d) of the Condensed Statement of Capital and Surplus.

See Matters to be set forth in Notes to the Condensed Balance Sheet #31 - Income taxes for further disclosure.

5. The basis of recognition of premium, investment and commission income.

Income and Expenses

Gross premiums are recognized as revenue when due over the terms of the related insurance policy. The premiums and claims of the Company are all assumed; there are no direct or ceded premiums or claims. Expenses are charged to operations as incurred.

Unearned Premium Reserve

The portion of premium received on in-force contracts that relates to unexpired risks at the balance sheet date is reported as the Gross Unearned Premium Reserve.

Invested Assets

Initial Recognition and Subsequent Measurement

Generally, debt securities that support insurance contract liabilities are designated as FVTPL, while debt securities not supporting insurance contract liabilities are designated as AFS. Financial assets are recognized in the Condensed Balance Sheet on their trade dates, which are the dates committed to purchase or sell the assets.

Financial assets at FVTPL include financial assets that are held for trading (“HFT”), as well as financial assets that have been designated as FVTPL at initial recognition. A financial asset is classified as HFT if it is acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the near term. A financial asset can be designated as FVTPL if it eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition of inconsistency that would otherwise arise from measuring assets or liabilities or recognizing the gains and losses on them on different bases; or if a group of financial assets, financial liabilities or both, is managed and its performance is evaluated on a fair value basis.

Financial assets classified as FVTPL are recorded at fair value in the Condensed Balance Sheet and transaction costs are expensed immediately. Changes in fair value as well as realized gains and losses on sale are recorded in Line No. 31 Combined Investment Income –Net in the Condensed Statement of Income.

Financial assets classified as AFS are recorded at fair value in the Condensed Balance Sheet and transaction costs are capitalized on initial recognition. Transaction costs for debt securities are recognized in income using the effective interest method. Changes in fair value, net of the associated tax impacts, are recorded to Line No. 2 (d) Change in Unrealized Appreciation (Depreciation) of Investments in the Condensed Statement of Capital and Surplus. Net impairment losses and realized gains and losses on the sale of assets classified as AFS are reclassified from Line No. 2 (d) Change in Unrealized Appreciation (Depreciation) of Investments in the Condensed Statement of Capital and Surplus to Line No. 36 Combined Realized Gains (Losses).

Interest income and dividends received are recognized when earned and recorded in Line No. 31 Combined Investment Income - Net in the Condensed Statement of Income.

The types of assets and liabilities utilizing Level 2 valuations generally include U.S. Government securities not backed by the full faith and credit of the government, certain asset backed securities (“ABS”) including residential mortgage backed securities (“RMBS”) and commercial mortgage backed securities (“CMBS”), and certain corporate debt securities.

• Level 3: Unobservable inputs

Fair value for investments classified as Level 3 is based on valuation techniques that require one or more significant inputs that are not observable. These unobservable inputs reflect management’s expectations about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Pricing may also be based upon broker quotes that do not represent an offer to transact. Prices are determined using valuation methodologies such as option pricing models, discounted cash flow models and other similar techniques. Non-binding broker quotes, which are utilized when pricing service information is not available, are reviewed for reasonableness based on the Company’s understanding of the market, and are generally considered Level 3. To the extent, the internally developed valuations use significant unobservable inputs, they are classified as Level 3.

Generally, the types of assets and liabilities utilizing Level 3 valuations are certain ABS, RMBS, CMBS, and certain corporate debt securities.

There have been no significant changes made in valuation techniques during 2020.

In December 2018, the U.S. Treasury released more favorable proposed BEAT regulations which were made final in December 2019, and as a result, the Company entered into a replacement coinsurance funds withheld reinsurance agreement with SLOC, effective September 30, 2019, under which it again assumes 100% of the risks, net of third party reinsurance, associated with medical stop loss insurance policies issued by SLOC. SLOC holds and manages the assets on a funds withheld basis, and the Company has a corresponding funds withheld receivable within Line No. 12 Funds Held by Ceding Reinsurers on its Condensed Balance Sheet. As of December 31, 2020 and 2019, the funds withheld receivable balance reported on the Company's balance sheet was $592,212 and $502,488, respectively.

The Company pays each member affiliate 60% of the current quarter's pre-tax IFRS net profits ("net profits"). In the event a pre-tax IFRS net loss is incurred for a given quarter, the Company will not owe any experience refund to member affiliates and the loss will be carried forward (the "loss carryforward") and applied to net profits generated in a future quarter. The loss carryforward will be applied to all future quarterly net profits and no experience refund will be paid until the loss carryforward is fully recovered.

Examples of such encumbrances are: irrevocable letters of credit; amounts held for security or as collateral against a liability of the insurer or an affiliate; any other use restriction such that the funds in question are held in escrow or in a custodial account.

2. Quoted investments

The method of valuation of quoted investment must be described. Any encumbrance on quoted investments must be disclosed. Examples of such encumbrances are: irrevocable letters of credit; amounts held for security or as collateral against a liability of the insurer or an affiliate.

Fair Value Methodologies and Assumptions

The fair value of government and corporate debt securities is determined using quoted prices in active markets for identical or similar securities. When quoted prices in active markets are not available, fair value is determined using market standard valuation methodologies, which include discounted cash flow analysis, consensus pricing from various broker dealers that are typically the market makers, or other similar techniques. The assumptions and valuation inputs in applying these market standard valuation methodologies are determined primarily using observable market inputs, which include, but are not limited to, benchmark yields, reported trades of identical or similar instruments, broker-dealer quotes, issuer spreads, bid prices, and reference data including market research publications. In limited circumstances, non-binding broker quotes are used.

The fair value of asset-backed securities is determined using quoted prices in active markets for identical or similar securities, when available, or valuation methodologies and valuation inputs similar to those used for government and corporate debt securities. Additional valuation inputs include structural characteristics of the securities, and the underlying collateral performance, such as prepayment speeds and delinquencies. Expected prepayment speeds are based primarily on those previously experienced in the market at projected future interest rate levels. In instances where there is a lack of sufficient observable market data to value the securities, non-binding broker quotes are used.

Amortized Cost and Fair Value of Financial Assets

The amortized cost and fair values of our financial assets are shown in the following table:

As at December 31, 2020	Amortized Cost	Fair Value
Assets
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 13,046	$ 13,046

Debt securities - available-for-sale	305,604	326,471
Total financial assets	$ 342,716	$ 363,627

Fair Value Hierarchy

We categorize our assets carried at fair value, based on the priority of the inputs to the valuation techniques used to measure fair value, into a three-level fair value hierarchy as follows:

Level 1: Fair value is based on unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in an active market that the Company has the ability to access. Active markets are defined as a market in which many transactions occur with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

Level 2: Fair value is based on quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities traded in active markets, or prices from valuation techniques that use significant observable inputs, or inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated with observable market data through correlation or other means. Valuations are generally obtained from third-party pricing services for identical comparable assets or liabilities or through the use of valuation methodologies using observable market inputs.

Level 3: Fair value is based on valuation techniques that require one or more significant inputs that are not based on observable market inputs. These unobservable inputs reflect management’s expectations about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Pricing may also be based upon broker quotes that do not represent an offer to transact. Prices are determined using valuation methodologies such as option pricing models, discounted cash flow models and other similar techniques. Non-binding broker quotes, which are utilized when pricing service information is not available, are reviewed for reasonableness based on the Company’s understanding of the market, and are generally considered Level 3. To the extent, the internally developed valuations use significant unobservable inputs, they are classified as Level 3.

Encumbrances – not applicable.

3. Unquoted investments

The method of valuation of any unquoted investment must be described. Any encumbrance on unquoted investments must be disclosed. Examples of such encumbrances are: irrevocable letters of credit; amounts held for security or as collateral against a liability of the insurer or an affiliate.

As further disclosed in Matters to be set forth in a General Note to the Financial Statements #15 – Related party transactions, effective September 30, 2019, the Company entered into a replacement reinsurance treaty with SLOC.

For the stop loss business ceded to the Company, the December 31, 2020 incurred claims related to prior years' amount is negative (redundant), meaning that the Company's actual losses incurred related to prior years were less than the estimates previously made by the Company. The favorable development in claim reserves for the year ended December 31, 2020 is primarily attributable to actual claim payment patterns and cost trends differing from those assumed at the time the liability was established. Income Taxes Payable

The Company remained in accordance with the financial reporting provisions of the Bermuda Insurance Act of 1978, for the period, January 1, 2018 to January 31, 2018. In late 2020 the Internal Revenue Service accepted the Company's election under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 953(d) to be treated as U.S. corporation. As such, the company was under the guidance of Section 953(d) for federal income tax purposes for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019.

The method of allocation of the total consolidated income tax among members of the consolidated tax group is subject to a written agreement, approved by their representative authorized officers. Under the current tax allocation agreement, federal income tax amounts are allocated among members of the consolidated tax group based upon separate return calculations with current credit (benefit) for losses that were utilized by the consolidated tax group. Under this approach, the Company's deferred tax assets and tax attributes are considered realized by it so long as the group is able to recognize (or currently use) the related deferred tax asset or attribute. Thus, the need for a valuation allowance is determined at the consolidated return level rather than at the level of the individual entities comprising the consolidated group. Intercompany tax balances are settled on a quarterly basis within 30 days following a federal or state tax payment. In accordance with the tax sharing agreement, the income tax provision is computed as if each company was filing a separate income tax return.

As of December 31, 2020, an income tax receivable is recorded in the Company's Condensed Balance Sheet, Line No. 13i – Other Sundry Assets.
